Instructions: Circle TRUE or FALSE for each statement. There are 10 questions. Each correct answer = 1 point.

Q1 .	Schizophrenia is an illness that affects the brain — it is not caused by weakness of character or bad upbringing.	TRUE / FALSE
Q2 .	Most people living with schizophrenia are not violent. The media often exaggerates this, and with proper support they can live safely at home.	TRUE / FALSE
Q3 .	Hearing voices or seeing things that others cannot (hallucinations) is a real symptom of schizophrenia — the person is not making it up.	TRUE / FALSE
Q4 .	If your family member feels better and their symptoms have calmed down, they can stop their medication on their own without telling the doctor.	TRUE / FALSE
Q5 .	Schizophrenia can cause the person to lose motivation, speak less, and show little emotion — these are also part of the illness, not laziness.	TRUE / FALSE
Q6 .	If your family member starts avoiding people and staying alone more than usual, this could be an early warning sign that the illness is returning.	TRUE / FALSE
Q7 .	The best way to handle a hallucination is to argue with the patient and try to prove that what they are hearing or seeing is not real.	TRUE / FALSE
Q8 .	If a family member with schizophrenia says they want to hurt themselves or others, you should take it seriously and seek help immediately.	TRUE / FALSE
Q9 .	Schizophrenia is caused by the family — for example, by parents who argue or by a difficult home environment.	TRUE / FALSE
Q10	Families who learn about schizophrenia and get proper training can help reduce the chances of their loved one getting worse again.	TRUE / FALSE

Q	Answer	Why
Q1	TRUE	Schizophrenia is a medical brain disorder, not a personal or moral failing.
Q2	FALSE	The vast majority of people with schizophrenia are not violent; stigma distorts this perception.
Q3	TRUE	Hallucinations are a well-documented positive symptom of schizophrenia.
Q4	FALSE	Stopping medication without medical guidance is a major cause of relapse — always consult the doctor.
Q5	TRUE	Negative symptoms (avolition, flat affect, alogia) are core features of the illness.
Q6	TRUE	Social withdrawal is one of the most common early warning signs of relapse.
Q7	FALSE	Arguing worsens distress. Validate feelings without confirming the hallucination; gently redirect.
Q8	TRUE	Any expression of suicidal or violent intent must be taken seriously and acted on immediately.
Q9	FALSE	Schizophrenia has biological and genetic roots; family conflict does not cause it.
Q10	TRUE	Family psychoeducation has strong evidence for reducing relapse rates.
